“This project is a masterclass in the use of brick. We fell in love with the meticulous and seamless detailing. The way the vertical curves create a very subtle canopy over the footpath allows the public to engage with the material and is a generous way of giving back to the public realm. It's bold, yet it displays subtle and structurally integral ways of using brick.”

THE AUSTRALIAN FACE BRICK MARKET

The brick industry is worth $2 billion per annum to the Australian economy and employs approximately 30,000 people in the manufacture and installation of its products.

Annually, 1.6 billion bricks are manufactured nationally.

Brick manufacturers continue to invest in research and development to produce products that have wider appeal to designers while promoting its status as a “self-finishing”, long-lasting material that satisfies many environmental concerns in both the short term and over the life of the building.

award introduction

COMPETITION OVERVIEW

This award was initiated by the Horbury Hunt Club and by request from architects and designers. Its purpose is to reward innovation and craftsmanship in brickwork and recognise the contribution of architects, builders, bricklayers and manufacturers in that process.

The Horbury Hunt Award categories include commercial and residential built projects that exemplify outstanding craftsmanship and innovation through the use of clay face brick and pavers.

The award is named after John Horbury Hunt, a renowned architect who came to Australia from America in 1863. Hunt was known for introducing his distinctive and radical architecture to Sydney and rural New South Wales, including St Peter's Cathedral in Armidale, and Convent of the Sacred Heart and Tivoli in Rose Bay.
